How did the Fund perform last year?

Rising Rates Opportunity 10 ProFund (the "Fund") seeks daily investment results, before fees and expenses, that correspond to the inverse (-1x) of the daily performance of the most recently issued 10-Year U.S. Treasury Note (the "Note").

The Fund invests in financial instruments that ProFund Advisors believes, in combination, should produce daily returns consistent with the Fund's investment objective.

For the year ended July 31, 2025, the Fund had an average daily statistical correlation of over 0.99 to the inverse of the daily price movement of the Note. For the same period, the Note, as measured by the S&P U.S. Treasury Bond Current 10-Year Total Return Index, had a total return of 1.71% and a volatility of 7.01%. The index performance was driven by rising longer-term interest rates.

Primary factors affecting Fund performance include the total return of the derivatives held by the Fund, the performance of the reference assets to which the derivatives are linked, financing rates paid or earned, the types of derivative contracts used (and their correlation to the Index), expenses, transaction costs, the impact of compounding, and other miscellaneous factors.
