How did the Fund perform last year?

Rising Rates Opportunity ProFund (the "Fund") seeks daily investment results, before fees and expenses, that correspond to one and one-quarter times the inverse (-1.25x) of the daily performance of the most recently issued 30-Year U.S. Treasury Bond (the "Long Bond").

The Fund invests in financial instruments that ProFund Advisors believes, in combination, should produce daily returns consistent with the Fund's investment objective.

For the year ended July 31, 2025, the Fund achieved an average daily statistical correlation of over 0.99 to one and one-quarter times the inverse of the daily price movement of the Long Bond. For the same period, the Long Bond, as measured by the S&P U.S. Treasury Bond Current 30-Year Total Return Index, had a total return of -4.72% and a volatility of 13.69%. The index performance was driven by rising longer-term interest rates.

Primary factors affecting Fund performance include the total return of the derivatives held by the Fund, the performance of the reference assets to which the derivatives are linked, financing rates paid or earned, the types of derivative contracts used (and their correlation to the Index), expenses, transaction costs, the impact of compounding, and other miscellaneous factors.
