Funds with Flexibility
Investing is not about riding out the market’s twists and turns. It’s about adapting to them. ProFunds mutual funds offer many of the advantages of index funds, such as the transparency of the investment process, diversified market exposure, and high daily correlation to benchmark indexes. But they also offer something most mutual funds don’t—trading flexibility for all shareholders. What’s more, the diverse lineup of ProFunds leveraged and inverse funds adds another dimension of flexibility. We believe our value proposition is clear: ProFunds give investors the freedom to rapidly adjust investment strategies as markets change or opportunities arise.

Tactical Tools for Active Investors
ProFunds are appropriate for active investors, who have a comprehensive understanding of the advantages, disadvantages and risks associated with trading mutual funds, and especially leveraged and inverse funds. There are no restrictions on the size or frequency of trades and no transaction fees; however, fund exchanges may have tax consequences. And keep in mind that active trading may increase expenses and reduce fund performance.

Many ProFunds routinely employ leveraged investment techniques that magnify gains and losses, and result in greater volatility in value. Each geared (leveraged or inverse) ProFund seeks a return that is a multiple (e.g., 2x, -1x) of the return of an index or other benchmark (target) for a single day, as measured from one NAV calculation to the next. Due to the compounding of daily returns, geared ProFunds' returns over periods other than one day will likely differ in amount and possibly direction from the target return for the same period. These effects may be more pronounced in funds with larger or inverse multiples and in funds with volatile benchmarks. Investors should monitor their ProFunds holdings consistent with their strategies, as frequently as daily. For more on risks, please read the prospectus.

You could lose money by investing in the Government Money Market fund (the “Fund”). Although the Fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. The Fund may impose a fee upon sale of your shares or may temporarily suspend your ability to sell shares if the Fund’s liquidity falls below required minimums because of market conditions or other factors. An investment in the Fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The Fund’s sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the Fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the Fund at any time.

ProFunds are not suitable for all investors because of the sophisticated techniques the funds employ. Investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal. ProFunds entail certain risks, including risk associated with the use of derivatives (swap agreements, futures contracts and similar instruments), imperfect benchmark correlation, leverage and market price variance, all of which can increase volatility and decrease performance. For more on correlation, leverage and other risks, please read the prospectus. There is no guarantee any ProFund will achieve its investment objective.

All ProFunds are subject to active investor risk. There are no restrictions on the size and frequency of trades and no transaction fees. The frequent exchanges our policies permit can decrease performance, increase expenses and cause investors to incur tax consequences. Other brokerage or service fees may apply.
